

Mussarat Yasmin et al.,
Applicants

v.

International Bank for Reconstruction and Development,
Respondent

ORDER

1. The World Bank Administrative Tribunal received on December 7, 1999 from Mussarat Yasmin, acting for herself and on behalf of other legal heirs of Ghulam Mustafa, a document entitled "Review against Judgment and Case Ghulam Mustafa v. International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (WBAT Case 97/18)." The case has been decided by a Panel of the Tribunal, established in accordance with Article V(2) of its Statute, composed of Francisco Orrego Vicuña (a Vice President of the Tribunal) as President, Bola A. Ajibola and Elizabeth Evatt, Judges.

2. Ghulam Mustafa had submitted an earlier application to the Tribunal which resulted in a judgment rendered on May 14, 1999 (Decision No. 207 [1999]) where he was awarded compensation in the amount of three months' net salary and various costs. His widow, Ms. Yasmin, is requesting the Tribunal to revise its judgment. Among her pleas, she asks the Tribunal to "increase compensation to at least three years net salary and provide a job to any one of [her] two elder sons." She states that if her request is not "responded [to] properly," she "will go to American courts for damages and various human rights organization[s]."

3. Pursuant to the Statute of the Tribunal, judgments are "final and without appeal," subject to the "discovery of a fact which by its nature might have had a decisive influence on the judgment of the Tribunal and which at the time the judgment was delivered was unknown both to the Tribunal and to that party."

4. Having considered the request at its session in January 2000, the Tribunal finds that it is devoid of all merit. Most of the information presented in the request is not newly discovered and was known to the Tribunal at the time of its judgment. As to any information that might be considered new, Ms. Yasmin has not demonstrated when such information was discovered. In any event, such information would not have had a decisive influence on the judgment of the Tribunal.

Decision

The "Review against Judgment and Case Ghulam Mustafa v. International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (WBAT Case 97/18)" is summarily dismissed.
